Notes for Robert Lawrence Smith:

Bob was assigned to the USS Essex in the 1960's when the Essex homeport was Quonset Point, Rhode Island.

USS Essex (CV/CVA/CVS-9) was an aircraft carrier and the lead ship of the 24-ship Essex class built for the United States Navy during World War II. She was the fourth US Navy ship to bear the name. Commissioned in December 1942, Essex participated in several campaigns in the Pacific Theater of Operations, earning the Presidential Unit Citation and 13 battle stars. Decommissioned shortly after the end of the war, she was modernized and recommissioned in the early 1950s as an attack carrier (CVA), and then eventually became an antisubmarine aircraft carrier (CVS). In her second career, she served mainly in the Atlantic, playing a role in the Cuban Missile Crisis. She also participated in the Korean War, earning four battle stars and the Navy Unit Commendation. She was the primary recovery carrier for the Apollo 7 space mission.

Essex had just finished her six-month-long overhaul and was at Guantanamo Bay Naval Base for sea trials when President Kennedy placed a naval "quarantine" on Cuba in October 1962, in response to the discovered presence of Soviet missiles in that country (see Cuban Missile Crisis). (The word quarantine was used rather than blockade for reasons of international law-Kennedy reasoned that a blockade would be an act of war, and war had not been declared between the U.S. and Cuba.)[5] Essex spent over a month in the Caribbean as one of the US Navy ships enforcing this "quarantine", returning home just before Thanksgiving. She was decommissioned for the last time in 1969 and sold for scrap in 1975.

Notes for Peter Ford White:

Peter spent his life devoted to the auto racing world and eventually became involved in The Nascar racing series.

His first year in Nascar he was with a team sponsored by Tropicana and was in a Tropicana television commercial recorded at the Chicago race track with their female driver Shawna Robinson.

After a few years in other Nascar series levels with drivers like Terry Cook, Kenny Wallace, and Travis Kvapil, he was hired on with Roush Racing to form a team that was setup by the Discovery Channel television series called Roush Racing: Driver X where the idea was to give many young, up and coming drivers the opportunity to drive for Jack Roush in what was then called the Nascar Busch Series with the eventual winner being Danny O'Quinn.

Peter was hired on as the car chief and setup specialist. The second year, this team became The Dish Network All Star Team using the Roush Nextel Cup Stars driving at the track where the Busch Series and Nextel Series shared tracks on the same weekends and driver Danny O'Quinn at the other tracks. Roush Racing then setup a team in the Truck series where Peter took the same skills as car chief and setup specialist with the number 9 Zaxby's sponsored truck.

Peter then moved to the Nextel Cup series again as car chief and setup for the Roush Racing driver Jamie McMurray in the Crown Royal/Irwin Tools number 26. When Jamie McMurray's contract ended in 2009, Peter moved to the Roush Racing car number 16 driven by Greg Biffle, sponsored mainly by 3M.

After a few successful years with Greg, Tony Stewart invited Peter to move over to the Stewart Haas Racing team while they were planning to expand to a four car team. Peter worked with the Ryan Newman's number 39 Quicken Loans sponsored car that year.

Ryan Newman's contract was ending at the end of 2013 but plans were in place for the four car team and Peter was involved with putting the number 41 team for Kurt Busch together and working as car chief that was more of a supervisory role than the setups that he had done for so many years.

A decision was made to swap complete teams in an effort to help Danica Patrick and the Go Daddy number 10 car improve her performance. As of now, 2016, He is still Danica's car chief in the number 10 now sponsored by Nature's Bakery.
